ABOUT

Jamie has spent more than a decade in creative, marketing, and digital companies. She has served clients across various industries, including healthcare, pharmaceutical, financial, technology, and non-profit. Jamie founded Stabilimenta in 2018 to help innovative and creative professional services organizations establish and optimize their processes to more effectively serve their clients and engage their employees.

While predominantly working in client service and project management roles, she always has had a keen focus on operations. She graduated from Cornell University in 2009 with a bachelor of arts in English and history.
