ABOUT

Susie is an educator, artist, and entrepreneur who is known for translating sensitive topics into meaningful discussions. Her career in public education spanned eighteen years and in 2015, she founded With Pride Consulting to create actionable change for the LGBTQ+ population in schools and the workplace. Susie artfully mixes her professional experience with her personal coming out story to bridge the knowledge deficit and help others realize their unconscious bias.

Today, her unique perspective and future-ready business strategies are amplified as a TDM Consultant where she drives awareness and shared accountability across all diversity traits including gender identity, race, ethnicity, age, and mental and physical abilities. Susie's expertise has deepened recruitment pools, increased employee productivity, and boosted companies' bottom lines.
